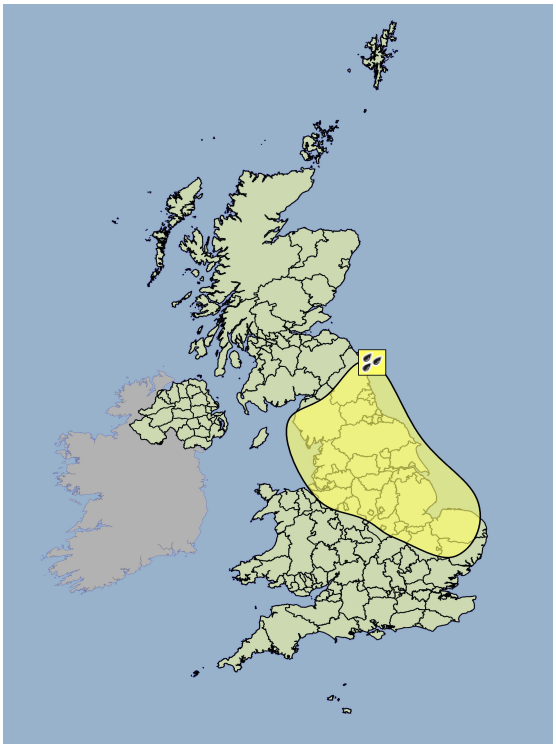
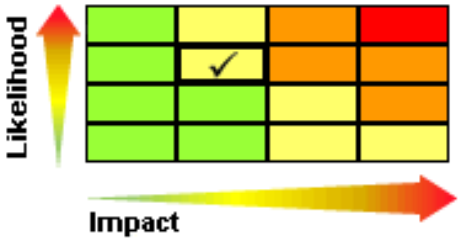
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Low pressure looks like maintaining some heavy rain within its circulation for a time during Wednesday, these slow-moving. Upwards of 30 mm could fall in a few places. Conditions are expected to ease during the afternoon.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 00:00 on Wed, 07th Oct 2015 until 16:00 on Wed, 07th Oct 2015

Further slow-moving bands of heavy rain are likely to continue into Wednesday; again it will be a minority of places which see the larger totals, but where it occurs, there is the risk of localised minor flooding.

The public should be aware of the risk of minor disruption to travel due to localised surface water flooding.
